Dawn raid swoop on betting shop suspect

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A JOBLESS 57-year-old suspected of being the armed robber dubbed the “Bookie Blagger” was seized by armed police in a dawn raid, it was revealed on Monday.

Officers burst into the home of Nicholas Smith, 57, at Tempsford Avenue in Borehamwood, Hertfordshire, just after 7am following a tip-off.

The arrest was made in connection with more than 20 raids on bookmakers' shops, including three in Haverhill and one in Cambridge, over a two-year period which netted a total of around £30,000.

His home was searched but no weapons were recovered. A Metropolitan Police spokesman said inquiries were continuing. Smith was remanded in custody by Hendon magistrates on Friday, to appear at the Central Criminal Court in London on a date to be fixed.

He faces charges of armed robbery at Ladbrokes in Haverhill on New Year's Day last year, as well as Ladbrokes in Hatfield, Hertfordshire, in March 2006; Ladbrokes at Spalding, Lincolnshire, in November 2006; attempted robbery at Bet Fred in Farnborough, Hampshire, in June last year and four charges of possession of a firearm with intent to commit an indictable offence.

A nationwide hunt has been under way to catch the man responsible for a spate of robberies in London and surrounding counties, all from betting shops.

Police believed the culprit could be an unhappy punter. He used a number of disguises during the raids and plundered £5,000 in one Ladbrokes robbery.

■ BALL BOYS ... Paul Clark and Anthony Jefferson are trying to start up a Dodgeball Club in Haverhill.

Picture: Duncan Lamont 456321.

Sports team keen to draft dodgers

ANYONE whose only knowledge of dodgeball is from the comedy film with Ben Stiller can try their hand at the real sport and help to form a new club.

Anthony Jefferson and fellow dodgeball enthusiast Paul Clark are trying to start up a club in Haverhill for male and female players aged from 16-18 as well as players aged 18 and up. Mr Jefferson is looking for a squad of 10 players, to make a team of six players with substitutes.

A taster session will be held at Haverhill Leisure Centre on Saturday, February 16, from noon and it is hoped to get five teams up and running, with Mr Jefferson acting as co-ordinator for the area.

The sport is growing in popularity in this country and Mr Jefferson will also be looking for a venue to play the games and sponsorship to help boost the team.

He said: "I have set up a web page of my own which incorporates some of the information from the UK Dodgeball Association. There are a number of teams already in tournaments this year and I would like Haverhill, and Cambridge and surrounding areas to be part of this.

I am looking for mixed teams and or male/female teams from ages of 18 upwards. We would also be looking to take a coach and referee on board to help with team building."

Parents of truant girl may face jail

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COUPLE have been told they could be jailed for failing to make sure their daughter goes to school.

The Haverhill pair appeared at Bury Magistrates' Court where they admitted a charge of failing to ensure their 14-year-old daughter attended Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College in Haverhill between April and November last year.

Nigel Shaddick, prosecuting for Suffolk County Council, said the schools welfare officer visited the couple's home after the girl attended school for only 102 half-day sessions out of a possible 180 during the seven-month period.

Since November she had attended only 26 half-day sessions out of a possible 68.

The offence puts the couple, who cannot be named for legal reasons, in breach of a conditional discharge imposed when they were previously convicted of the same offence in relation to their daughter.

The father told magistrates his daughter was not being bullied as far as he knew, but simply did not want to go to school.

He said: "We have tried several things to get her to go to school, but you can only do so much.

"You cannot force them to go. The same as any other teenager, she just shrugs her shoulders and says she does not care that we have to go to court."

Dr Dick Soper, the magistrates chairman, ordered an all options pre-sentence report on the couple and warned them he did not rule out a custodial sentence.

He said: "These offences carry prison as one of those options, and your daughter should be told that as well.

"If between now and sentencing your daughter attends school exceptionally well that may make a difference.

"This is not the first time you have appeared in court for this offence. This is a very serious offence, and your daughter not going to school seriously affects her chances in life."

The couple will be sentenced at Sudbury Magistrates' Court on February 8.

Son, 41, wounded mother

A MAN has admitted an attack on his mother at their home village last October.

Edward Oxford, 41, had previously denied an offence of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm at Kedington, but on Friday he changed his plea to guilty during an appearance at Ipswich Crown Court.

Oxford, of Risbridge Drive, Kedington, had been arrested and charged in connection with an incident which resulted in a woman sustaining serious injuries.

Judge David Goodin told Oxford, who is remanded in custody, that he would be brought back to court to be sentenced early next month.

The judge ordered the preparation of a pre-sentence report by the Probation Service.

Cash taken from bag

A WOMAN had cash stolen from her handbag as she was shopping in Haverhill.

The woman was shopping with her sister in High Street, Haverhill, between 3.15pm and 4pm on Saturday.

They noticed a young woman following them, and when they stopped outside Woolworth's, she walked between them. The money was found to be missing soon afterwards.

She was described as being of Eastern European origin, in her late teens, 5 ft 5 in tall, with long dark curly hair and was wearing a short fake fur jacket.

Anyone with information about this incident should call Sergeant Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or call Crimestoppers on (0800) 555111.

Rose blooms as she turns 100

ROSE Morse did not want to tempt fate by celebrating her 100th birthday too soon, but her friends had other ideas.

A surprise party was staged at Westbourne Court in Millfields Way, Haverhill, for Rose as Pat Spring and her staff at the sheltered accommodation complex invited Rose's friends from Haverhill Day Centre and the Fellowship Church. Rose is still very active and walks every day and loves reading.

Rose was against any kind of celebration being planned because she was quite superstitious about reaching the milestone age. She visited the day centre on the morning and thought she was just having a game of bingo and a piece of cake in the afternoon, until the surprise party was revealed.

Rose, who is the eldest resident at Westbourne Court, said: "It was simply fantastic and a wonderful surprise and I'd like to thank everyone here and my friends from the Haverhill Day Centre and the Methodist Church for making it such a special day."

Pat Spring, Westbourne Court scheme manager, said: "Rose was superstitious about turning 100 and so we had to make the party a surprise. She's definitely 100 years young, because she looks after herself, loves walking and keeping active and has a great sense of humour."

Rose attends Haverhill Day Centre on Tuesdays and Fridays where she likes making baskets and cards. Friends from the day centre along with friends from the Methodist Church attended the party, with fellow resident Yvonne Warren, a former cook, helping to make the sandwiches.

Armed police in dawn raid

The gunman – pictured right in footage caught on a CCTV camera – terrified cashiers at Haverhill's Camps Road branch in a robbery last June when he threatened staff with a gun. Dressed in a coat with the hood up, sunglasses and a scarf around the lower part of his face, he walked off with hundreds of pounds.

It was a carbon copy of a raid at the same shop in February and a New Year's Day hit on the Ladbroke branch in Jubilee Walk in the town.

There he forced employees to hand over cash at gunpoint before pushing them into a toilet.

A £10,000 reward was offered from the Association of British Bookmakers for help in catching the robber and the Metropolitan Police Flying Squad co-ordinated Operation Flagmount, an investigation spanning seven police force areas.

Betting shops in Spalding, Watford, Hemel Hempstead, Hatfield, Wisbech, Potters Bar, Haverhill, Cambridge and various other locations across London were hit.

Thefts from cars and house linked

A BURGLARY and thefts from cars carried out within hours of each other at Clare are being linked by police.

Offenders stole cash, CDs and a jacket, after climbing into a blue Citroen A4 left unsecured on a driveway at Hill Terrace, Clare, between 6.30pm on Wednesday, January 9, and 7.15am on Thursday.

Anyone with information about this incident should call Pc Ian Davies at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on (0800) 555111.

Then between 8.30pm on Thursday January 9 and 6.45am the next morning offenders gained entry to a passageway leading to a house at Highfield, Clare, and stole a radio. An unsecured white Vauxhall Astra van was also entered and a Tom Tom sat nav was stolen.

Anyone with information should call Dc Jacqui Mumford at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on (0800) 555111.

Friends pay tribute to 'champion' mayor

TRIBUTES have been paid to Haverhill mayor Ted Trebble who has died suddenly after recovering from a stroke last year.

Coun Trebble, 66, was elected as town mayor in May, but deputy mayor Les Ager had to take over his duties after he became ill while visiting his family in Norfolk in June.

He spent six months in hospital but was delighted to return home to Haverhill for Christmas. He told the Weekly News at Christmas he felt "pretty good" and hoped to resume his mayoral duties soon.

But last Friday, Coun Trebble is believed to have suffered another stroke from which he did not recover.

Coun Trebble first lived in Haverhill in the 1980s, when he was involved in extensive charity fund-raising to buy defibrillators and other medical equipment for the town.

He moved away, but returned four years ago, joining first the town council and later St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Coun John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said he had known Coun Trebble for a number of years, even before he became a councillor. Coun Griffiths said: "I think he will be remembered and missed with great affection for the things he did for so many people in Haverhill and the surrounding area.

"He was always happy to express his feelings and show his devotion to Haverhill. I and everybody who knew him at St Edmundsbury will remember him with fondness and send our deepest condolences to his family."

Elaine McManus, leader of the Conservative group on Haverhill Town Council, said: "It was with great sadness that we learned of the death of our colleague and friend, Ted Trebble.

"We would like to pay tribute to Ted for all his hard work and dedication on behalf of Haverhill town and the people who live here.

"Ted always made everyone aware that he held the town and its people in extremely high regard. Ted had been making progress after suffering a stroke last June but all the while he was in hospital he was thinking about Haverhill and making plans for his return to office.

"Ted kept his finger on the pulse of what was going on and gave his advice and input throughout his illness. He put in place several projects which we will endeavour to carry through in tribute to his memory.

"Haverhill has lost a champion and we want to reassure you that we will be doing our utmost to follow Ted's example and serve all the people of Haverhill to the best of our ability.

"Finally, we would like to extend our utmost sympathy to [his wife] Pauline ■ TIRELESS WORKER . . . tributes have been paid to town mayor Ted Trebble, who passed away last Friday. He had been on the road to recovery after suffering a stroke last year and had recently returned home after six months of treatment.

and his family and friends."

A funeral service will be held on January 29 at 11.15am at St Mary's Church, Haverhill, followed by cremation at Risbygate Crematorium in Bury St Edmunds at 12.45pm.

Family flowers only are requested but donations can be made via H J Paintin Ltd Undertakers and will be split between Adenbrooke's Stroke Unit in Cambridge and Newmarket Hospital. There will be a wake from 2.30pm at the Haverhill Arts Centre.

■ HAPPY DAYS . . . children and staff at the outstanding Sandcastles playgroup where children learn through play.

Picture: Duncan Lamont 455437.

Glowing report for playgroup

A PLAYGROUP which has been running for more than 20 years has received a glowing report from Ofsted inspectors who found it "outstanding" in every area with no improvements needed.

Sandcastles is based at Castle Manor Upper School in Haverhill with 67 children aged between three and five years on its books, and was inspected in December. The inspectors' verdict was that: "No recommendations for improvement are made because the quality and standards of nursery education are outstanding."

The report said: "Children relish their time at the setting and have an excellent attitude to learning. They are happy, settled and purposefully engaged throughout the session. Concise plans are based on children's interests and support child-initiated play incorporating the next steps in the child's learning.

"The quality of teaching and learning is outstanding. All staff have an excellent knowledge of the Foundation Stage and how children learn.

"Comprehensive plans are clearly linked to the stepping stones.

"Children's behaviour is managed extremely well to promote an optimum learning environment. Resources have been set out creatively promoting a rich and vibrant atmosphere that provides stimulating and appealing activities."

Janette Kempen, play leader at Sandcastles, said: "I am absolutely thrilled to bits with the report. It reinforces the ethos we have always had that children learn through their play and it is lovely to have that recognised."

Ann Prue, a trustee who started the group in 1984, said: "It is a thoroughly well deserved report. They have made great progress and created a brilliant environment for the children.

"Students from Castle Manor work closely with the group and the staff are all very committed and hard working. I am proud to be a part of it."

Travel guide boosts region

A GUIDE listing reasons to visit West Suffolk will soon be available in Tourist Information Centres across the country to encourage even more people to travel to the area.

The guide, produced jointly by St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Forest Heath District Council, gives details of places to stay, where to eat and attractions to visit, all of which are designed to meet a range of budgets and tastes.

It covers the main towns of Bury St Edmunds and Newmarket, along with surrounding towns and rural areas in between.

Coun Nigel Aitkens, St Edmundsbury cabinet member with responsibility for tourism, said: "While this guide makes essential reading for anyone planning a trip to our beautiful county, it also provides great inspiration to those living in West Suffolk."

"It is very often the case that we don't make the most of what we have on our doorstep."

"This guide describes the events and experiences for each season and all the contacts you'll need to tailor a trip, be it a few hours or even days."

The guide is available from the Tourist Information Centre and the bus station in Bury St Edmunds.

Celebrating the works of Ouida

A SPECIAL display commemorating a renowned Victorian novelist is to be unveiled at Moyses's Hall Museum 100 after her death.

Ouida was born in 1839 and died in January 1908. As a friend of the well-known Cullum family, she had ties with Bury St Edmunds and spent large portions of her childhood playing at Hardwick House. A drinking fountain for dogs and horses was later installed in her memory at the junction of Out Westgate and Vinery Road.

During her career, Ouida produced more than 40 novels, children's books and collections of short stories, which sold in large volumes. One of her most successful novels, Under Two Flags, has been made into at least three film versions, one of which starred Ronald Colman and Claudette Colbert.

Visitors can see the display in the Bury St Edmunds museum until the end of February. For more details, call (01284) 706183.

Plan appeal rejected

A PLANNING appeal against a refusal by St Edmundsbury Borough Council to allow homes to be built at Recreation Road, Haverhill, has been dismissed by an inspector.

The inspector ruled the scheme for three three-storey homes and one two-storey home plus parking behind 48 Recreation Road, Haverhill, would be cramped and overdeveloped. It would have a harmful impact on the area and affect those living at number 48.

Opening hours bid

A CAFÉ and delicatessen shop at Clare is hoping to extend its opening hours.

A planning application to vary a condition of planning permission and allow the business to operate between the hours of 10am and 4pm on Sundays and Bank Holidays has been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council for the business at 1 High Street, Clare.

Clinics to help working parents

MORE help and support with everything from breastfeeding to behaviour is being offered to parents of children under the age of five a new evening drop-in clinic in Haverhill.

Health visitors, who already run three weekly clinics at Haverhill Health Centre in Camps Road, will be launching an evening clinic on the first Tuesday of every month between 5pm-7pm, starting in February.

Joan Nevin, clinical team leader – Health Visiting for Suffolk Primary Care Trust,

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

said: “It is really aimed at those working parents of children aged five years and under, who might not be able to attend the clinics we hold during the day.

“Parents can come and ask any question that they might have about the health and well-being of their child.

“Most often we are asked about when babies can be weaned and what foods to encourage or hold back on. How much food to give is also a common question, and how to get enough iron into a child’s diet. Being able to get children to eat lumpy food is also important, as the chewing process helps with speech development.

“We can also offer advice on breast-feeding, toilet-training and how to cope with challenging behaviour.

“Primarily we expect people just to be able to come in when passing, but we will also be able to use the time for development assessments, which we carry out as a matter of course.”

Evening clinics have proved to be very successful in other areas, such as Sudbury.

The other clinics for under-fives are held on Mondays, 3.30pm-4.30pm, Wednesdays, 2pm-3pm, and Fridays 9.30am-12pm.

Memorial service time for reflection

A HOLOCAUST memorial service will be held in the Abbey Gardens, Bury St Edmunds, on Monday, January 28.

The Mayor of St Edmundsbury, Coun Margaret Charlesworth, and Canon Peter Barham, of St Edmundsbury Cathedral, will be joined by councillors, children from two Bury St Edmunds schools and representatives from religious groups at a special service at 10.30am to commemorate Holocaust Memorial Day.

The aim is not only to remember all victims of the Holocaust and Nazi persecution, but also to take the opportunity to reflect on those affected by more recent atrocities as well as educating about the dangers of racism and all forms of discrimination.

The theme for 2008 – “Imagine... Remember, Reflect, React” – asks people to focus on the lives and experience of victims and survivors of the Holocaust of Nazi persecution and of other genocides and invites them to find new and creative ways to express this experience through art and media.

The short service is open to everyone and will feature a series of readings by church representatives and councillors.

Picture: David Johnson 456272.

Mothers' great expectations

STAFF at a cosmetics company in Linton are in seventh heaven after an incredible string of pregnancies.

Bosses at Hanworth Laboratories were delighted to hear before Christmas that two colleagues would be hearing the patter of tiny feet.

But they were gobsmacked to return from the festive break to find that five more employees are in the family way – making the grand total a magnificent seven.

Claire Tavener, human resources manager, is amazed by the coincidence.

She said: "I have worked here for more than 20 years and I've never known more than two pregnancies at once, so it's very surprising, but we are delighted for them."

"For most of them it's their first time, and they all work closely together, so perhaps they got talking about it and that made them broody."

Quality control technicians Lisa Snow, Joanna Johnson and Emily Van Heerden are expecting, as are production operatives Jo Antona, Louise Pearce, Gemma Darking, and Gemma Edwards.

Although Gemma Edwards has now left the company, the remaining six are being excused from heavy lifting and preparations are being made for a massed maternity exodus in the summer.

Joanna, 22, from Haverhill, found out that she was expecting her first child with her husband Alex on Christmas Day.

She said: "I couldn't believe it when I found out so many of us are pregnant – it's almost half the department, and three of us are due in the same week."

Emily, 25, also from Haverhill, is expecting her second child with her husband Led.

She said: "I'm really happy that we are all pregnant because when I was expecting first time round I was at home by myself, but now we'll be able to go through it together."

"Everyone is finding it very amusing – people are scared to sit on the chairs or drink the water in case that's causing it."

Waste collection merger steps up

MOVES to merge two council's waste collection and street cleaning services could lead to savings.

Some jobs may go through the non-replacement of staff. But council chiefs have said that redundancies are not planned.

The move could see St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Forest Heath District Council sharing the service covering both areas including Haverhill, Bury St Edmunds, Newmarket and Mildenhall.

Informal talks about joint working between the two councils have been on going for nearly two years.

Now the two councils, which are among the best in the country at recycling, are moving closer to merging the operation.

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A report to Forest Heath's community services committee, which was due to meet this week, recommends the formation of a joint committee to take over the waste collection and street cleaning operations – subject to the acceptance of a legal agreement.

A full merger of the service could take between two and four years, according to the report.

The councils are looking at whether there will be operational efficiencies by having bin collection rounds operating across the boundaries.

The councils will also be reviewing "options for replacing staff when they leave".

Nigel McCurdy, Forest Heath's strategic director of services, said in the report: "Whilst it is clear that a totally integrated approach can bring substantial benefits, it is also apparent that the level of risk, along with the extent of organisational change – and potential impact on staff – increases proportionately to the level of joint working."

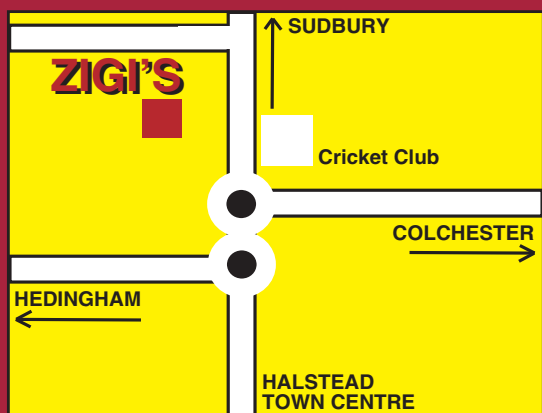

He said that a "measured approach" would help control the risks and provide time for "smoothing" the potential impact on staff.

The report states that full consultation would be held with staff at all stages as the partnership between the two councils progresses.

Revellers dig deep for hospice

GENEROUS partygoers visiting Chilford Hall at Linton during the Christmas and New Year celebrations raised a bumper sum of more than £800 for the St Nicholas Hospice.

Annette Stockwell, who works at Chilford Hall and organised collections during several party nights, handed over the cash to Ian Norris, community fundraiser at the Bury St Edmunds Hospice which serves a wide surrounding area, including Haverhill.

Mr Norris said he knew Annette as a member of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce and also because she had organised collections at Chilford Hall for a number of years after a friend of hers died at the hospice. Mr Norris said the hospice was very grateful for the donation, which was a substantial sum to help meet the cost of around £3,500 a day needed to keep it open.

Mr Norris said: "We are really pleased, it is such a simple way of raising money and lets people give something back. It was just generous partygoers – some of them put in £20 notes. The amount of money they raised will keep a couple of patients in the hospice for a day. It is a substantial sum of money and we are very grateful."

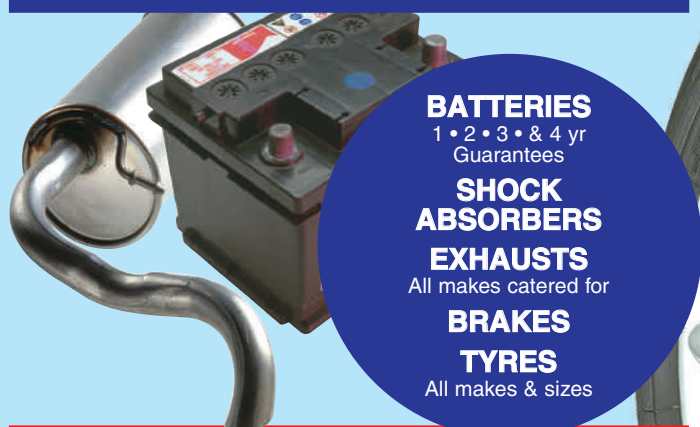

■ REALLY PLEASED. . . Ian Norris, community fundraiser, and Annette Stockwell, sales executive at Chilford Hall.

Busy year for town twinnings

THERE was a good turnout for the recent AGM of the Haverhill and District Town Twinning Association, held at town's arts centre.

Nearly all the membership attended, together with several new members. The deputy mayor, Les Ager, was also present. The committee was returned to serve another year and the chairman,

Mr P J Sheehy, commented on a busy and very eventful year, in particular the 25th anniversary visit of friends from Germany.

Mr Ager took a vote of thanks for the town council.

For further information, or to join the association, contact the secretary, Ian Chapman on (01440) 708328.

Pictures illustrate changing townscape

IMAGES of Haverhill from the 1800s to 2007 can be found at a photographic exhibition charting continuity and change in the townscape over the last 150 years.

The exhibition at Bistro in Haverhill Town Hall was officially opened by Christopher Gurteen, president of the Haverhill and District Local History Group, and Coun Lynsey Alexander, St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member for culture and sport.

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The exhibition will be on show until March 31, and highlights include the oldest known image of Haverhill, taken in 1860, and pictures of various other well-known streets and places.

The exhibition is brought up to date with images taken in 2007 from similar vantage points so visitors will be able to see how much has changed and which images look very similar.

The exhibition has been produced by the Haverhill and District Local History Group, in partnership with St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Heritage Service. Admission is free.

The Haverhill Local History Centre, inside the Haverhill Arts Centre, is generally open on Thursday and Friday from 2pm-4pm, Saturday from 10.30am-3.30pm and the first Tuesday of each month from 7pm-9pm (admittance to 8pm), with admission free. THE monthly meeting of the Garden Society was held last Tuesday evening at the Barnardiston Arms, owing to the usual meeting place, the Royal British Legion Hall, not being available. A very good turnout of members was welcomed by chairman Madge Pelling, who also introduced the speaker – Rodney Tibbs of Cheveley, making a return visit. His subject was "Restoring a cottage garden". Thanks were extended to the landlord and landlady for providing the use of their front bar for the meeting.

The talk focused on a thatched cottage Rodney had recently purchased, which included a very large garden littered with rubbish and debris. They had both now been carefully restored to a picturesque dwelling with a well-tended garden and flowering shrubs.

Rodney was thanked by the chairman for a most interesting evening, and was able to answer various questions from members. At the next meeting of the society, at the Legion Hall on February 5, the speaker will be C Parfit with "A View of Mongolia".

School Parent, Teacher & Friends Association (PTFA) is holding a coffee morning in the school main hall on Monday, January 21, from 9am to 11.30am. All are welcome to come and have a chat, and to find out what the PTFA does for the school. Fundraising ideas are welcomed.

On behalf of the school council, secretary Natasha Goldsborough-Martin is appealing for old mobile phones, which it is collecting for recycling, to help raise money for more equipment for the school.

■ The annual carol singing event around the village organised by the churches in aid of the Children's Society raised a total of £160 on December 17 and 18. Thanks to all who participated, in spite of none-too-pleasant weather conditions.

■ A meeting of the Parish Church Restoration Committee was held at the home of John and Madge Pelling, Dash End, when members were welcomed by the chairman Daphne Smith, who also reflected on the loss of Alan Ford, a very active member of the committee, who had died recently. Alan had been a great supporter of the church and a leading light in fundraising activities for the church restoration.

Fundraising activities for the year were discussed and finalised where possible.

Treasurer Jeanie Smith presented a balance sheet of activities held in 2007 in aid of the restoration as follows: profits on the winter supper, £502.99; summer lunch, £508.84; open gardens, £1,396.82; duck race, £566.75; quiz nights, £404.20; autumn event, £393.15.

The committee is most grateful to all who organised and supported the events.

SAM'S THE WORD

News from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College

WE WELCOME everyone back to a new term with both students and teachers aiming high for the New Year. Sixth form students have started the new term with modular exams and re-sits in many subjects. The students are looking to achieve the grades they need as they prepare for university. Good luck to all those taking exams! Year 11 students are currently taking their mock GCSE exams in all subjects with these grades giving an indication to their potential results in the summer. Hopefully, the mocks will go well and the students are happy with their efforts. A very successful pre-sixth evening has taken place as prospective sixth form students view what is on offer for them at AS and A-levels. The evening saw many of the students learn about the advantages of A-levels from current students. If anyone wants more information about the sixth form, they can contact Mrs Walters through the school on (01440) 761511.

Schools on top form with record results

BRIGHT students from all across the region have gone to the top of the class nationwide with their outstanding GCSE and A-level results.

Last Thursday's tables, published by the Department for Children, Schools and Families (DCSF), show 49.6 per cent of Cambridgeshire's Key Stage 4 students achieved five or more A* to C grades at GCSE level, including maths and English. This compares with 46.7 per cent nationally.

The high-flying results of students at the Perse School for Girls put them in 11th place nationally for the GCSE results achieved in 2007. All eligible pupils achieved five or more GCSEs at grades A* to C at Cambridgeshire's top performing school.

Tricia Kelleher, principal, welcomed the news that her school had maintained its number one ranking in the county for both GCSE and A-level results.

She said: "We are very, very pleased. It is a testament to the hard work of students and staff."

"The girls are very aspirational and believe in themselves. We are academically a very successful school but the girls are also engaged in sport, drama, music – any number of interests."

results, with 98 per cent achieving five or more GCSEs at grades A* to C. It was ranked second in Cambridgeshire. And it was followed by The King's School, Ely, where 97 per cent achieved the required standards.

Sue Freestone, headteacher at The King's School, Ely, said: "Performance tables frequently fail to reflect the true worth of the achievements of young people."

"But the most satisfying fact revealed by these figures is the year-on-year improvement in results attained by King's pupils over the past four years. We are grateful for their efforts and proud of their achievements."

The pick of the county's comprehensive schools was Comberton Village College – 71 per cent of its pupils collected five or more GCSEs at grades A* to C.

Paul Lawrence, deputy principal, said: "We are delighted with the results, particularly the measure of five A* to C grades with maths and English."

"It demonstrated that pupils are performing at a high level and maintain a high level of literacy and numeracy."

He said the pupils who took their GCSEs last year had the lowest Key Stage 2 results on entry to the college for a decade. He said their exam performance was a testimony to their hard work.

In the contextual value added (CVA) measure, which shows the most effective schools in helping pupils progress from the age of 11 to 16, Parkside Community College was top of the list, closely followed by Manor Community College, Cambridge.

Students in Hertfordshire easily out-performed the national average with 55.9 per cent getting five or more GCSEs at grades A* to C. Suffolk students scored 47.3 per cent, Essex students got 47.2 per cent and Bedfordshire pupils achieved 47.1 per cent.

The published figures show Cambridgeshire's youngsters have an average GCSE point score of 377.4, marginally down from 378.4 last year. At A-level, Hills Road Sixth Form College was in the country's top 200 performing schools for its results.

It was joined by four other schools from our region in the top 200 schools at A-level when measured by average point score – the Perse School for Girls, The Perse School, Mander Portman Woodward (MPW), all in Cambridge, and the Friends' School, Saffron Walden.

Schools Minister Jim Knight welcomed the record GCSE results and congratulated schools who raised their game – but warned there would be no let up on low-performing schools.

He said: "These results are very positive and build on excellent improvements over the last decade. There are fewer poorly performing schools."

"Back in 1997 over half of all secondary schools were failing to get 30 per cent or more of their pupils to what we now see as the benchmark for any teenager – five higher level GCSEs or equivalent with English and maths."

"This is now down to a fifth of schools. The number has plummeted by 150 in the last year alone. On current trends there should be no schools under this level by 2012."

He also praised schools which scored well for contextual value added. He said: "These schools should be very proud of themselves. The teachers, parents and pupils have worked incredibly hard. Many of these schools are in challenging circumstances but they have refused to let this hold them back."

"Education is all about constantly striving for more and raising your game and that is why these schools should be seen as an example to everyone."

But headteachers condemned the tables as "a toxic influence from the era of competition and market-based education policies".

John Dunford, general secretary of the Association of School and College Leaders, warned that pupils were being encouraged to take easier subjects to boost school rankings.

He said: "League tables create perverse incentives. The latest manifestation of this is the dramatic fall in the numbers taking modern foreign languages."

NOTES:
■ For the GCSE points score per pupil, GCSEs and qualifications judged to be equivalent are assigned points. As examples, the Government has listed the following: GCSE, grade B = 46 points; Intermediate GNVQ, merit = 196 points; Certification in Modern Foreign Languages, entry level, grade 3 = 14 points; National Certificate in Business, merit = 196 points. There are too many qualifications now being included to list each one alongside its points score.
■ Contextual value added (CVA) shows the most effective schools at helping children progress over their secondary school careers from ages 11-16. It takes into account the varying starting points of each pupil's Key Stage 2 test results and also adjusts for factors which are outside a school's control (such as gender, mobility and levels of deprivation) that have been observed to impact on pupil results. The individual scores are averaged to give a score for the school which is represented as a number based around 1,000. This indicates the value the school has added on average for their pupils. Scores above 1,000 are generally above average, while those below 1,000 are generally below average.
■ Care should be taken when comparing results with small numbers of pupils eligible for exams.

Shoppers give boost to hospice

ONE lucky shopper has received a free trolley full of groceries and a local hospice received a cash boost from an event run by Haverhill and District Rotary Club.

The club held its annual "guess the cost of the shopping in the trolley" day on New Year's Eve and raised £500 for the St Nicholas Hospice.

Robin Harman, a member of the club, congratulated winner Roddy Maclean of Sturmer, whose guess was within 10p of the cost of £63.

The club thanked all the Sainsbury's shoppers who took part for their generosity.

Planning inspection

COUNCILLORS are to carry out a site inspection to decide whether a cart lodge built without planning permission should be allowed to stay.

A retrospective planning application was considered by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee for the detached two bay cart lodge next to a bungalow at Mill Road, Hundon.

A letter of objection was received from a neighbour who said the size of the building was inappropriate and not in keeping with properties in the area, dominating Mill Road.

It was also said that the cart lodge was being used as a car port.

Officers recommended conditional permission should be granted for the building.

However, members of the committee decided to look for themselves.

Working towards a safer community

MEMBERS of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce will learn about crime affecting the local business community at their next meeting.

Pc Sonia Plume, of the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood teams, will speak at the meeting on Thursday, January 31, about how the teams are tackling crime and what business people can do to help the police.

The idea is that stakeholders in the local community work together with police officers and staff to make the area a safer place to live and work.

Her presentation will cover the Safer Neighbourhood team, how it works, facts and figures on crime in Haverhill and what role the business community can play.

There will also be a question and answer session.

The event will take place at Haverhill Golf Club in Coupals Road at 6pm for 6.30pm, with a light buffet provided.

The cost is £7.50 for members and £10 for non-members.

Those planning to attend should register their interest by next Thursday to Elaine Carr on (01440) 710158 or email elaine@flipflopmarketing.co.uk

Noise fest

LOCAL fanzine Repeat is putting on its annual Winter Festival of Noise, once again featuring the best in hardcore punk the region has to offer. The gig, on Saturday at Cambridge's Cellar Bar 8 on Napier Street, will feature crowdpleasers Impact and Volunteers headlining. Support comes from Ipswich's "prog-tech-metal-core" purveyors This Mourning After and hardcore supergroup Audacity!, which features members of One Step Down and This Is Colour. Tickets are £4-£5

Royston rock

ROYSTON heavy metal troupe Scar My Eyes will be blowing amps at Cambridge's Man on the Moon on Norfolk Street next Wednesday. The noise makers formed at a youth club in the town and are heading for big things. After recording a double A-sided single which quickly sold out they are soon to set out on a UK tour with Thoughts Collide and are currently putting the finishing touches to their EP, This Machine.

String sound

VIENNESE classics from Johann Strauss, Lehar and Kreisler will be heard at Augustine's Church Hall on Richmond Road in Cambridge on Saturday at the church's New Year Gala Concert. The Cantiamo ensemble will also be performing arias by Puccini and songs by Ivor Novello, and the concert will feature soprano Siew Gim Koo Joyce and violin soloist Chihiro Ono. It starts at 6pm.

Dynamic arrival of avant garde play

A CONTROVERSIAL tale will be gracing the stage at the Mumford Theatre in Cambridge this week. Anglia Contemporary Theatre company is performing Le Balcon by French avant garde pioneer Jean Genet. The play, which runs tonight and tomorrow from 7.30pm, centres on the clients of a high class brothel where role play games satirise the rich and powerful. It was first staged in London in 1957 where it had to be performed in private because it had been banned by the Lord Chancellor. Dr Gianna Bouchard, from the department of music and performing arts at Anglia Ruskin, said the play "will not disappoint", adding: "They are as dynamic as they are controversial. The directors and students have pulled out all the stops." To book tickets, £5-£8, call (0845) 1962320.

'We've never been in the cool element'

By Nik Shelton

BOURNEMOUTH is better known as a retirement spot than a breeding ground for rock stars.

So it's little surprise that Air Traffic only started seeing success when they upped sticks and moved to London.

It wasn't long before their ocean-sized piano rock – the kind of stuff you hear blasting out from montages of season highlights on Match of the Day – got them noticed.

"We wanted to move to London to focus on the band – uni was just something we did so we didn't have to get jobs," says the band's guitarist Tom Pritchard.

"We were only there for a year, after that the whole plan took off and we were signing to EMI. So we all decided to drop out. At least we escaped the student debt."

After being signed up the band started getting played regularly by influential Radio One ■ GLITTERING FUTURE . . . Air Traffic will play at Cambridge's The Junction on Sunday.

tastemaker Steve Lamacq and were invited onto Later with Jools Holland. The debut album, Fractured Life, was released last July. They've already started on the next album but the foursome are firmly in the mindset of today's musical generation when it comes to spending time in the studio. They like to get in and out and do the job but it's all just a device for their real product – the live show. After the UK tour they will head to Europe and from there they will try to create a buzz in the US.

"We love touring, that's what a band is for us," Tom explains. "You can go into a studio and record the music but really it's all about the reaction we get from the crowds when we tour. "Playing live takes a lot of time to get right. We've made a lot of mistakes in the past, I'm sure every band has. It's just knowing what to do and what not to do."

"We've never been in that cool element, we've always just written songs that we want to write. We're never going to be the hip band of the week and have one song and then no-one ever hears of you again."

"We've always wanted to start from the bottom and make a career of it." ■ Air Traffic play Cambridge's Junction on Sunday, January 20. To book tickets, which cost £11, call (01223) 511511.

It's panto time, oh yes it is!

BACK by popular demand, Centre Stage Company returns to the Haverhill Arts Centre with its panto for 2008, Snow White.

It runs from tomorrow (Friday) to Sunday and from Thursday, January 24 to Saturday, January 26.

The panto follows the traditional story of the wicked queen, the magic mirror on the wall, a bewitched huntsman, friendly animals, a poisoned apple, a cottage in the woods full of "funny little men" and finally a kiss from a passing prince to round everything off nicely. Add Dame Murgatroyd, her son, Wot and Lester the Jester and you have all the ingredients you need for a successful panto.

The first performance is sold out, as is Saturday at 2pm and Sunday at 6pm, but tickets are available for the other performances. Times vary so check with the Box Office.

■ In The Jane Austen Book Club (12A), showing on Monday at 1.30pm and Tuesday at 7.45pm, a group of women and a man meet regularly to discuss the works of Jane Austen, and soon find their lives playing out much like one of her books.

The characters are lively – Sylvia, a recent divorcee, Bernadette, who has decided to accept her advancing age, and Prudie who feels guilty about her fantasies of cheating on her husband.

The threads are woven into a tapestry of love lost and found.

■ Luis has every intention of staying free and single, but his mother and sisters, weary of doing his domestic chores, launch a tireless campaign to find him a wife. To stem the tide of disastrous unwanted dates, Luis hatches a plan to find the perfect woman who will charm his family and then jilt him at the altar. Enter Emma, who is in need of some extra cash! I Do (15) is a French language film with English subtitles and is showing on Wednesday at 7.45pm.

Single Storey Scarcity

FOR a long time, the Churchill Avenue area has been considered one of the best places in Haverhill to live.

The broad roadway and grass verges behind which the individual properties stand, lend it a lovely open feel that isn't readily available elsewhere in the town. It's quite rare for any property in the area to be offered on the open market, even more rare for that property to be a bungalow and rarer still for that bungalow to be on the sunnier south side of the road. 18 Churchill Avenue fits all these criteria and as such represents a wonderful opportunity for someone looking for a single storey home in a superb spot at £315,000.

The three bedroom detached property has been comprehensively refurbished including refitment of the kitchen and bathroom and has been enlarged by the addition of a good size conservatory.

As with all of the properties in the area it stands well back from the road and has an excellent size plot including a particularly pleasant south-facing lawned garden. There is also a single garage and plenty of driveway parking.

Satnav software in 'glitch' furore

AFTER dozens of examples of satellite navigation systems literally leading drivers up the garden path, the reason for the misguided instructions has finally become clear – it's all down to the software.

Research has found that design glitches are to blame for the recent rise in satnav-related driving errors.

A Dutch research foundation, the Sighting Onderzoek Navigatiesystemen (Navigation Systems Research Foundation), claims that many satnav systems struggle to find ring roads in towns and cities.

The Foundation has worked out that the satellite navigation systems do not place enough importance on the road network hierarchy.

This research not only points out a major flaw in the systems used but also highlights an alarming safety problem. The satnav systems are directing drivers through residential areas and roads that are unsuitable for large numbers of traffic. These rat-runs are being used because the satnav cannot differentiate between the importance of a ring road and a residential road when issued with a command – and motorists blindly follow, greatly increasing the risk of pedestrian accidents.

The problem of drivers obeying satellite navigation systems without thinking has been around for a few years now and there has even been a sign developed, intended to be placed before villages/roads which are unsuitable for wide/long vehicles or heavy traffic. The Welsh village of St Hilary, near Bridgend, has had a number of these signs erected around it when satnav systems tried to direct trucks through it on a route between the M4 and Cardiff airport. In the space of a few months, more than a dozen lorries got stuck in the village because the road was too narrow.

These signs are starting to be used in villages in Kent, the Forest of Dean and the Peak District after the first-ever "no satnav" signs were put up in Exton, Hampshire at the beginning of the year. It is expected that these signs will spread nationwide as initial feedback shows a marked downturn in reported satnav-related incidents.

Tom Tom, one of the leading satellite navigation companies, has claimed that it is not the fault of the systems and the developers but it is a problem created by the authorities. However, the Foundation has proved this is wrong. As part of its extensive research on a wide variety of systems on the market, the Foundation tested Nav4all, a free navigation system for mobile phones. This system directed motorists via the correct roads when the destinations were inputted. The Foundation has therefore concluded that the software is at fault, not the data provided by the authorities.

A spokesperson from the Foundation stated: "Motorists are unnecessarily being turned into 'kid killers' by being sent through designated low-traffic residential areas and roads that are not designed for through-traffic. The navigation systems do not appear to be able to find ring roads."

The researchers feel that traffic avoidance systems that re-route drivers through rat-runs exacerbate the problem commenting: "Systems which unnecessarily endanger road safety and the flow of traffic must be banned. At the moment, the problem is still relatively small, but in a few years time, when everyone is using navigation systems, the consequences will be incalculable."

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

HIGHWAYS AGENCY ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(a) THE A11 TRUNK ROAD (SIX MILE BOTTOM TO NINE MILE HILL INTERCHANGE, CAMBRIDGESHIRE) (TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 200

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A11 Trunk Road in the County of Cambridgeshire, to allow for essential road resurfacing and replacement of road markings to be carried out in safety, to the northbound carriageway between Six Mile Bottom and Nine Mile Hill Interchange, near Swaffham Bulbeck.

It is expected that the works would take place over 5 nights starting on or after, Monday 4 February 2008 from 8pm Monday to Friday finishing at 6am the following mornings. The Order would come into force when the appropriate traffic signs are erected from 1 February 2008 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order would be to –

- impose a 50 miles per hour speed limit on the A11 northbound carriageway from a point 2 kilometres south of the exit slip road at the A11/A1304 Six Mile Bottom Junction to that slip road, and
- close the A11 northbound carriageway from its junction with the exit slip road at the A11/A1304 Six Mile Bottom Junction to the centre line of the A11/A14/A1303 Nine Mile Hill Interchange.

Traffic affected by the northbound carriageway closure would be diverted on to the exit slip road at the A11 Six Mile Bottom Junction to join the A1304 to Newmarket exiting and joining the A142 to join the A14 at the A14/A142 Exning Interchange, Junction 37.

The temporary mandatory speed limit (which would not apply to emergency service vehicles) and carriageway closure (which would not apply to emergency service, Winter Service Maintenance or works vehicles) and diversion routes, would be clearly signposted throughout the duration of the works.

YOUTH FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

Bailey at the double as Reds win through

WRATTING Reds travelled to play local rivals Sawston in this cup derby clash on Sunday.

With the two sides having been involved in some competitive league clashes over the previous seasons, the match had all the makings of a classic with the winner progressing to the last 16 of the League Cup.

The pitch was passed fit to play after the previous night's rain onslaught, and both teams started the game brightly, with the Wratting shading the possession early on.

However, both sides' attacking intentions were curtailed by each teams' strong defensive play.

The visitors broke the deadlock mid-way through the first half when Will Bailey's corner was driven in low, creating havoc in the Sawston penalty area.

The ball bobbed around on the the goalline and, with the home defence unable to clear, Wratting frontman Alex Carter stabbed his effort into the net.

Wratting were unable to extend their lead, despite several opportunities, especially from corner kicks, and at the interval the scoreline remained unchanged.

The restart found the momentum see-sawing between the two teams, with the parity being restored when the home side equalised through Matthew Coteman.

With the battling determination displayed by both sets of players, goalscoring chances were few and far between in the second half.

Full-time was finally called and the match went into extra time, with the possibility of the dreaded penalty shoot-out looming.

Straight from Sawston's kick-off, Bailey intercepted the ball and set off on a mazy run, beating two defenders before slotting the ball home, to give the visitors the early advantage.

Shell-shocked Sawston kicked off again and Wratting again intercepted the ball with a similar result when Rhys Shulver scored for their third goal.

Again from the next restart, Bailey won the ball and set off on another solo run before finally firing home to score his second and settling this compelling and competitive tie in favour of the Reds.

Brown's in a hurry for on-song Grampian

Chesterton Eagles U14 0
Grampian Gunners U14 2

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 14A

GRAMPIAN came back from Cambridge with three well-earned points.

Ahead in the first five minutes courtesy of Jacob Brown, the visitors dug in for a fine victory.

The Grampian back four of Rodway, Howe, Abbott and Newton were at their best, thwarting anything that come their way.

Gunners doubled their lead just before the break when Brown headed home Youngs' free-kick.

The second half saw the home side pressing, but without any reward and perhaps it was the visitors, who should have increased their lead.

Halls was then sent through by Brown one-on-one with the keeper, but his effort was saved.

A Youngs' corner was met by a bullet header from Jackson that went just wide.

Palazon's fine run and cross saw Bailey just fail to connect at the far post while Youngs slammed a free-kick that grazed the post.

Grampian manager Simon Youngs said: "It was a battle, as it always is with Chesterton. The boys defended well and a clean sheet is all you can ask for."

Skipper Holmes sets Hawks on the right path

HUNDON Hawks U9 notched up an impressive 6-1 when they entertained their Plantation counterparts.

Although it took the Hawks a while to get going, they eventually opened the scoring when skipper Milo Holmes unleashed a left-foot cracker into the back of the net.

Kieran Grace crashed in Hawks' second goal and, minutes later, Jake Ryan scored his first of the season with a neat finish.

Liam Cohen was as solid as ever at the back for Hawks and, when Jonny

Frost embarked on a mazy run, the home side went up 4-0 when Tommy Goodwin scored from his cross.

Plantation pulled a goal back, but two late scorchers from Branham Ince sealed an impressive victory.

Hawks did not fare as well when they travelled to NST and went down 5-3, despite giving a good account of themselves.

The hosts started stronger and were a goal up at the interval.

NST increased their lead early in the second period, but, after a double from Ince and another from Anders Pilly, the Hawks started to take control.

Holmes had an effort handled on the line to earn a penalty, which was missed.

This put NST back in the game and Liam Cohen and Kieran Grace had to defend well for Hawks throughout this period.

But the strong NST side capitalised on any Hawks mistakes, and, despite some superb goalkeeping from man-of-the-match Jonny Frost, the home team went on to secure their victory.

Hunt spot on to put Rovers on new high

■ ON TARGET . . . Gareth Thomas, who headed Haverhill Rovers into the lead at Lowestoft before Marcus Hunt, below, netted their second from the penalty spot.

Lowestoft Town 1 Haverhill Rovers 2

RIDGEONS LEAGUE,
PREMIER DIVISION

MARCUS Hunt's first-half penalty proved decisive as Haverhill saw off 10-man Lowestoft to move into the top four.

Steve Taylor's men began the game on the front foot and Hunt was a whisker away from breaking the deadlock in the opening five minutes when his fierce volley struck the woodwork.

Adam Ben-Saud then fired magnificently before seeing his goalbound header hacked off the line.

The Haverhill man then deftly diverted Jamie Thurlbourne's cross into the Lowestoft net, only to see the his effort chalked off for offside.

Rovers maintained the pressure and took a deserved lead when Gareth Thomas expertly headed a Thurlbourne corner into the net on the half-hour.

The visitors doubled their lead moments later when Lowestoft's Russell Stock was adjudged to have caught Hunt with an elbow inside the area.

Stock was immediately sent off and Hunt was left to make no mistake from the spot.

Haverhill goalkeeper Arron Benstead had little to do in the second period, but he was prevented from keeping a clean sheet when he was beaten by a powerful first-time effort.

Taylor's troops posed less of an attacking threat as the match neared its conclusion, but Joe Harvey should have made the closing stages more comfortable after the home Lowestoft keeper had made a hash of his clearance, but the Haverhill man missed the target.

The victory meant that Haverhill have climbed above Mildenhall in the table and are now 12 points behind leaders Needham Market.

And they will be aiming to reduce the gap further when they take on King's Lynn Reserves on Saturday in their first home league clash since Boxing Day.

Treadfirst Sudbury & District Sunday League

Hotshot Danny is boy for Grampian

GRAMPIAN Sunday were eager to put their first defeat behind from last Sunday with a visit to Stoke By Clare. With everywhere else in the Haverhill area rained off apart from one game, this was expected to be the same.

However, Stoke By Clare's sloping pitch has not had a game called off in seven years, due to their fantastic drainage system, and the division three battle took place.

As expected, Grampian emphatically beat the villagers 7-3 with goals from Danny Hill (4), Craig Dickson (2), Matt Emler and Lee Hurkett. Grampian are fourth in Division Three, but are only three points behind leaders Barnadiston Arms, but have four games in hand.

The league leaders only managed a draw this week at home to Boxford Rovers. The game finished 3-3. The only game in Division One saw Haverhill Snooker & Bowl lose to Bayhorse 2-1. The result left the losers still anxiously searching for their first success since November 25.

In Division Four, Melford Swan, who are finding life difficult at present, were hammered 10-3 by fellow strugglers Glemsford & Cavendish. The result leaves Haverhill side Woolpack Reserves rooted to the bottom of the table.

In Division Five, Haverhill Rose & Crown travelled to bottom of the table Cornard Blades, who had yet to record a win all season.

Unfortunately for the visitors, the hosts picked the right time to break their duck, as they notched up a good 3-0 success, which left Crown in eighth spot.

Top-of-the-table Glemsford Social Club beat Northcroft Rangers 3-1, while Arrandene Athletic drew 2-2. Alan Brittain and Matt McBrien were on target for Arrandene.
